RESURRECTION RESIDUE

ELMHURST
CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH

May 20, 2018

TODAY

As we celebrate Pentecost, we will look at how Jesus' resurrection and our anticipation of the final resurrection is meant to embolden and empower our life and work. We take confidence that when we give ourselves fully to Jesus' call on us, our labors are of lasting significance, even if massive signs of success are not present. God measures results in a different way. We continue with 1 Corinthians 15, this time, verse 58. Today we celebrate the sacrament of infant baptism.

NEXT WEEK

The Memorial Day holiday encourages us to gratefully remember those who have fought and sacrificed for the freedoms we enjoy. A good Christian worship service does the same, with the gratitude focused on remembering the work of Jesus Christ. The Corinthian church had trouble maintaining this focus, so the Apostle Paul wrote them at length about how to best remember Jesus' sacrifice, death, and resurrection through their celebration of the Lord's Supper. In the end, what matters most is not our own memories, but the fact that we are remembered by God. You can read 1 Corinthians 11:17-32 to prepare for this worship service. NOTE: We begin our summer schedule of ONE SERVICE time at 10:00 am.

THE CROSS

The Cross is draped in red for Pentecost. Red symbolizes the joy and refining, empowering fire of the Holy Spirit.
